Summary

I'm a Software Engineer based in Brasília, Brazil. With a bachelor's degree in Information Systems, my passion lies in Software Engineering. Currently, I am working as a Software Engineer at SysMap Solutions, where I collaborate with a talented team to deliver exceptional IT solutions to our clients. I thrive on taking up new projects that push the boundaries of my skills and allow me to explore diverse programming languages and frameworks. By staying up-to-date with the latest industry trends, I continuously enhance my abilities to develop robust and scalable software solutions.
